

Here is a text I just received from [REDACTED] who was just fired from the GIN Store yesterday...

So thought I would update you. I was "let go" yesterday from The GIN Store. I was told it was due to business slowing down (which we knew). Of course they did it dirty and will more than likely fight our unemployment. Whatever Abe is doing is working. But more needs to be done. I've spoken with him as well. I told him he needs to start his focus on The GIN Store themselves. They are denying refunds for bad hot leads. I think people need to start initiating chargebacks for bad leads. They are also charging for items on back order and giving lame excuses as to why member's order haven't been filled. They are also allowing for shipping charges to be applied and not shipping per those requests. (ex. member requesting FedEx for their shipping method but their orders sit for weeks). They also have order forms containing credit card information in unlocked file cabinets and piled on top of those cabinets. I should have taken pictures of that but thought about it after the fact. I would love to be able to forward some of the emails I have to the ftc. I am currently job hunting but can respond to messages. You guys keep up the good work!

Thanks to [REDACTED] for confirming and edifying what we've been trying to tell GIN members and affiliates all along. The good news is that the FTC knows all about the GIN Store and the antics of Wayne and Greg Kramer.

Mini Read

GIN is starting to crumble from the inside out!

The text to the left was received on Abe Husein's facebook page earlier today. GIN Store staff knew business was down, as did many of us in this for the long-haul since last year.

Miss.XXXXXX was "let go" - with little regard for her welfare or family, by the looks of things.

The GIN Store is a separate business from GIN, but Kevin and his fellow scammers, were obviously reaping the benefits. Goods are overpriced ($60 for a crappy tie!, $300 for a scheduler!, $100 for a ring that turned green within 3 hours!, etc etc).

Lazyman Orders have been withheld for over 2 years in some cases and no money was returned unless requested, and even then, no guarantees were given. So the Charge backs are working!

In the meantime, Trudeau is running another scam in GIN to get thousands of dollars from the gullible, to follow him for a day! You can read more on this current scam here. In the meantime, keep checking back for more news as GIN slowly crumbles!
